

Become a Fellow

Fellowship is open to anyone based in the UK or overseas who can demonstrate a commitment to the understanding and study of Scotland's past.

Knowledge and involvement may come from an academic or professional background, or from a deep personal interest in Scotland's history.

To become a Fellow your application needs the support of two current Fellows. We also consider references from referees, provided that they tell us something about their connection with you and their experience. New Fellows are put forward for election at our Anniversary Meeting held on the 30th November each year.

Find out how to apply by visiting www.socantscot/join-us or email info@socantscot.org

Annual Fellowship rates:	Ordinary	£72
	Family	£36
	Over 65	£54
	Student/Under 26	£20

Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

National Museums Scotland

Chambers Street

Edinburgh, EH1 1JF

Email: info@socantscot.org

Tel: 0131 247 4133

Website: www.socantscot.org

 @socantscot  /societyofantiquariesofscotland

Charity No. SC010440

Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

Join Us

“ As a Fellow you feel part of a broad community which champions, supports and shares research excellence - together we are inspired by the past.

PRESIDENT

Cover image: Dunure Castle © Ales Micola / Shutterstock

All other images © the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland, with the exception of the image accompanying the 'Stay Informed' section © Chris Mackinnon.

Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

Welcome to a Society that has been around for over 200 years, actively supporting the study and enjoyment of Scotland's past.

Fellowship is for anyone who is passionate about Scotland's past - its people, material culture and landscapes. Some Fellows join for professional reasons, some because they enjoy being part of a community who share their enthusiasm.

All our Fellows are united by their enjoyment of Scotland's heritage.

Founded in 1780 and incorporated by Royal Charter in 1783 the Society's purpose is "...the study of the antiquities and history of Scotland." Over two hundred years on we continue to promote the understanding and conservation of Scotland's conservation of Scotland's historic environment for the benefit of all.

Today we are an independent charity with a worldwide Fellowship.

Find out more at www.socantscot.org/join-us.

CONNECT WITH A COMMUNITY

Using the FSA Scot post nominal acknowledges you are a Fellow and one of nearly 3,000 people who share a passion for Scotland's heritage.

The Society brings together like-minded people; it facilitates people talking to each other. It provides a common ground and encourages collaboration – gets people out of their silos... I feel part of something bigger.

Archaeologist, Glasgow
Fellow since 2012

ACCESS RESOURCES & EXPERTISE

Receive exclusive discounts on our publications and borrowing privileges at the National Museums Scotland research library.

I joined the Society when I was a student. Being able to keep up my interest is important and Fellowship keeps me in touch with current research in Scotland.

International Fellow, USA
Fellow since 1979

FUND IMPORTANT RESEARCH

We support high quality research with a range of awards and bursaries.

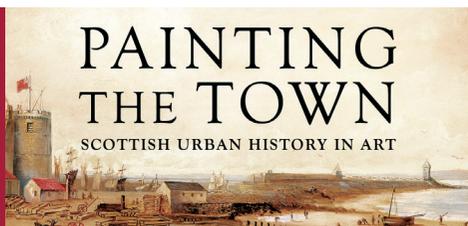

Research makes the work we do more authentic and compelling. The grant from the Society not only makes such research possible, it is in effect a stamp of recognition of the work's value.

Heritage Consultant, Aberdeen
Fellow since 1981

INSPIRE AND EDUCATE

Our publications and special projects showcase current developments and research.

We have been an active publisher since 1792. We continue that tradition today with our journals and high-quality books covering all periods of Scotland's past.

Managing Editor,
Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

STAY INFORMED

Our lectures and conferences feature renowned speakers and emerging researchers and a wealth of topics.

I thoroughly enjoyed the session. Each of the expert panellists came from different perspectives, spoke coherently and entertainingly, and clearly with a desire to communicate.

Retired professional, Edinburgh
Fellow since 1989

SUPPORT THE WORK OF AN INDEPENDENT CHARITY

The Society advocates vigorously on behalf of the historic and archaeological sectors.

Our Fellows play a vital role in the Society's work and thanks to their knowledge, expertise and enthusiasm the Society continues to thrive into the 21st century.

Director,
Society of Antiquaries of Scotland