

Become a Fellow

Fellowship is open to anyone based in the UK or overseas who can demonstrate an interest in the understanding and study of Scotland's past.

Knowledge and involvement may come from an academic or professional background, or from a deep personal interest in Scotland's history.

Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

Join Us

To become a Fellow your application needs the support of two current Fellows. We also consider references from referees, provided that they tell us something about their connection with you and their experience. New Fellows are put forward for election at our Anniversary Meeting held on the 30th November each year. The closing date for Fellowship applications is 1st September.

Find out how to apply by visiting www.socantscot/join-us
or email info@socantscot.org

Annual Fellowship rates:	Ordinary	£72
	Family	£36
	Over 65	£54
	Student/Under 26	£20

Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

National Museums Scotland

Chambers Street

Edinburgh, EH1 1JF

Email: info@socantscot.org

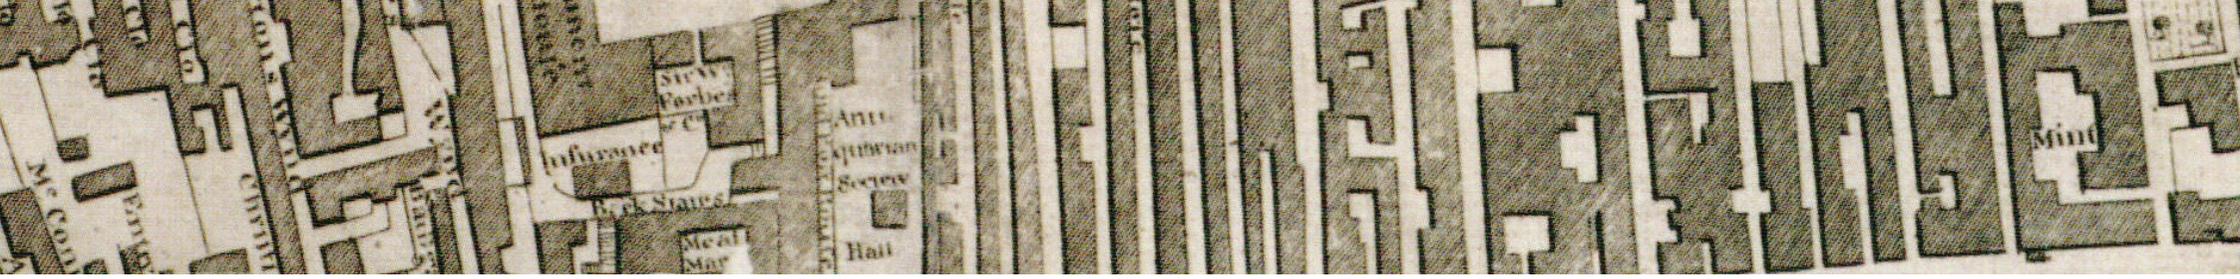

Tel: 0131 247 4133

Website: www.socantscot.org

 @socantscot

 /societyofantiquariesofscotland

Charity No. SC010440

Welcome to a Society that has been actively supporting the study and enjoyment of Scotland's past for over 230 years.

Fellowship is for anyone who is passionate about Scotland's past - its people, material culture and landscapes. Some Fellows join for professional reasons, others because they enjoy being part of a community that shares their enthusiasm.

Our Fellows worldwide are united by their enjoyment of Scotland's heritage.

There are a variety of benefits available to you when you join the Society:

Founded in 1780 and incorporated by Royal Charter in 1783 the Society's purpose is "...to investigate both antiquities and natural and civil history in general, with the intention that the talents of mankind should be cultivated and that the study of natural and useful sciences should be promoted." Over 230 years on we continue to promote the understanding and conservation of Scotland's historic environment for the benefit of all.

Today we are an independent charity with a strong focus on supporting research and publication.

CONNECT WITH A COMMUNITY

Using the FSA Scot post-nominal acknowledges you are a Fellow and one of nearly 3,000 people who share a passion for Scotland's heritage.

The Society brings together like-minded people; it facilitates people talking to each other. It provides a common ground and encourages collaboration – gets people out of their silos... I feel part of something bigger.

Archaeologist, Glasgow
Fellow since 2012

ACCESS RESOURCES & EXPERTISE

Receive exclusive discounts on our publications and borrowing privileges at the National Museums Scotland research library.

I joined the Society when I was a student. Being able to keep up my interest is important and Fellowship keeps me in touch with current research in Scotland.

International Fellow, USA
Fellow since 1979

FUND IMPORTANT RESEARCH

We support high-quality research with a range of awards and bursaries.

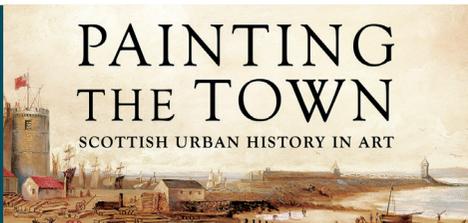

© Northlight / Forestry Commission Scotland

Research makes the work we do more authentic and compelling. The grant from the Society not only makes such research possible, it is in effect a stamp of recognition of the work's value.

Heritage Consultant, Aberdeen
Fellow since 1981

INSPIRE AND EDUCATE

Our publications and special projects showcase current developments and research.

We have been an active publisher since 1792. We continue that tradition today with our journals and high-quality books covering all periods of Scotland's past.

Managing Editor,
Society of Antiquaries of Scotland

STAY INFORMED

Our lectures and conferences feature renowned speakers, emerging researchers and a wealth of topics.

© Chris Mackinnon

I thoroughly enjoyed the session. Each of the expert panellists came from different perspectives, spoke coherently and entertainingly, and clearly with a desire to communicate.

Retired professional, Edinburgh
Fellow since 1989

SUPPORT THE WORK OF AN INDEPENDENT CHARITY

The Society advocates vigorously on behalf of the historic and archaeological sectors.

Our Fellows play a vital role in the Society's work and thanks to their knowledge, expertise and enthusiasm the Society continues to thrive into the 21st century.

Director,
Society of Antiquaries of Scotland